

Deloitte.

This webinar will analyze the application of the European Directive N. 2014/95/EU (in force since 2018) that – for the first time ever in the world – requires boards of directors of European big corporations to publish information on "the expected impact of science-based climate change scenarios on corporate strategies and activities" and will share existing research and insights on how different stakeholders (authorities, investors, advisors, firms) integrate non-financial and climate disclosures into their business, and their expectations from the future developments.

26 March 2021 100' Start 12:00 pm Welcome note

Sabrina Bruno, Chair Chapter Zero Italy

Boards and climate change: moving to a global system of thinking and reporting Veronica Poole, Global IFRS and Corporate Reporting Leader Deloitte

Quality of climate disclosure: takeaways from Italian non-financial statements Silvana Anchino, Head of Issuers Information Supervision Office CONSOB

From climate disclosure to governance and strategy: the SNAM model Alessandra Pasini, Chief Financial Officer Snam s.p.a.

Investors and climate change in Europe: Morrow Sodali Institutional Investor Survey 2021 Fabio Bianconi, Senior Director Morrow Sodali

Do investors care about carbon risk?

lancu Daramus, Senior Sustainability Analyst Legal and General

Driving insights and action for a better economy. Voluntary vs. mandatory reporting - sticks and carrots

Steven Tebbe, Steering Group Member EFRAG Reporting Lab & Managing Director CDP Europe

Future legislative developments in Europe Franco Amelio, Sustainability Leader Deloitte

Closing Note
Maria Pierdicchi, Chair Italian Nedcommunity

Q&A

To register click here.